Located at the top floor of the main building the room faces the eternal city in a suggestive environment.

Senso Room

Olfaction, sight, touch, hearings. These are the senses roused, or better, cuddled in the Senso Room, the latest and most exclusive creation of the Melià Roma Aurelia Antica: the suite of the emotions the involve all the senses and plunges the guest in a real oasis of wellbeing.

Take a virtual tour in this special suite where technology embraces the research of nature. The success of the Senso Room, winner of the 2006 Gold Key Awards for Excellence in Hospitality Design, is due to the contrast of colours and materials. Playing, metaphorically speaking, with the four elements of nature, the suite enlarges sensations and brings immediate and numerous benefits to mind and body.

Air is inebriated of delicate fragrance trough a "compass cards", a revolutionary system that spreading four combined olfactory notes with adjustable intensity trough a simple remote control. In the hydro massage of the relax area, inside the room, the guest will be entertained, if he likes, with a plasma screen, while in the shower can try the chromo therapy, followed by a pleasant music background with Bose sophisticated technology.

The virtual fire which appears on the British Fire will heat the room while the guest can grant himself a relaxing massage on the bed. The choice of natural and anti-allergic materials as rosewood, Siam's teak and sandstone, make the Senso Room the ideal suite for newly wed, but also for business men in search of relax and absolute comfort.
